

After attending the class or reading the book
you will agree with these comments.

... a real eye opener to the dangers that could occur.

Excellent course ...

... should be added to either EMT-A or basic firefighting

Did not realize how careless I've been

M.E.D.I.C.

Fire & Rescue
Educational Seminars

We can also structure, to your specifications, seminars in –
Confined Space Emergencies

Structural Collapse Rescue

Cave-in Emergencies

WHEN VIOLENCE ERUPTS

A Survival Guide for Emergency Responders

KREBS

▼ HENRY

▼ GABRIELE

M.E.D.I.C.

425 Sherwood Rd.
Cockeysville, MD
21030
301-667-4516

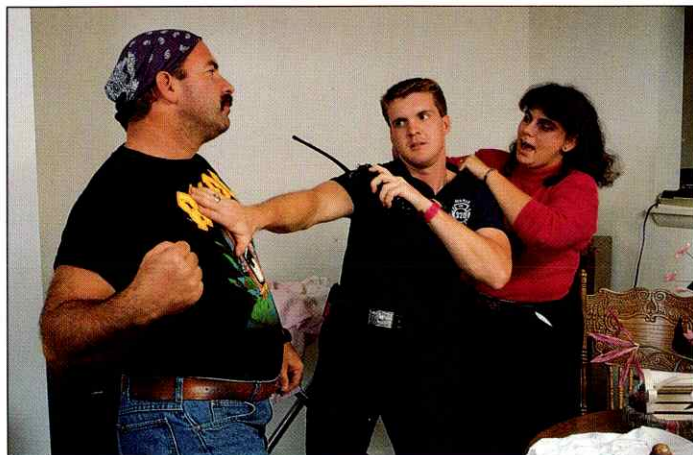

In 1982 a Paramedic was nearly shot and killed. This prompted him to develop the first street survival training course for firefighters and EMT's. Many fire and rescue services have elected to change their standard operating procedures in response to the violent changes in our society. Will your department be one of the proactive to take this radical step?

THE SEMINAR

This eight hour didactic program is supported by vast quantities of audio-visual material. The information presented will command the attention of your entire group. To learn more about how you can bring this acclaimed program to your area contact M.E.D.I.C. Educational Seminars.

THE BOOK

With the M.E.D.I.C. Seminar being so successful, Mark and Dennis felt compelled to provide this vital information in written form. Now available is a fully illustrated 228 page text which provides an eye opening study of violence against the fire and rescue service.

THE INSTRUCTORS

Dennis R. Krebs

Dennis has served the fire and rescue service since 1972 and is presently serving as a Lieutenant in the suppression division of a major metropolitan department. He also holds a Maryland certification as a Cardiac Rescue Technician.

Mark B. Gabriele

Mark is a First Sergeant with the Aviation Division of the Maryland State Police. He has also served the fire and rescue community since 1972 and is certified as an EMT-P.

*Other instructors may be utilized on occasion*

TOPICS COVERED

- The Threat and the Need
- Approaching Motor Vehicles
- Domestic
- Cover and Concealment
- Hostage Survival
- Clandestine Drug Labs
- Makeshift Weapons
- Self-Defense Tactics

and more.